

Shadow Puppets

The puppeteers stand behind the screen and hold the puppets up to the screen.

The audience view the play from the other side of the screen.

How do you think this shadow puppet theatre works?

Where does the light come from?

Why are the characters in this puppet play not black like a shadow?