

Onomatopoeia

Onomatopoeia refers to words that sound like the thing they represent.

When the words are spoken, they mimic the words they describe.

Examples:

cheep, cuckoo, meow, quack, crackle, splash, squawk, clang

Onomatopoeia

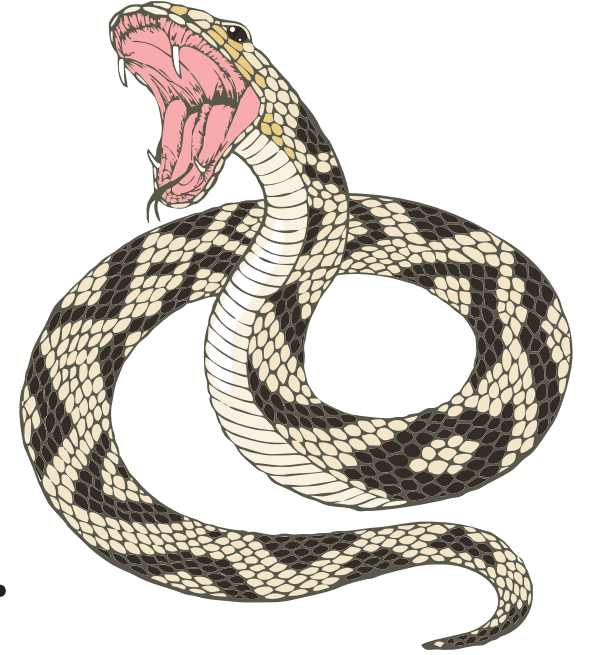

The snake rose up and hissed.

We heard the buzz of bees.

The girls sat around the cackling fire.

They all heard the ticking of the clock.

The sound of the frogs croaking was loud.

Can you find the examples of onomatopoeia?

Word wall: onomatopoeia

buzz

cluck

hiss

neigh

quack

thud

plop

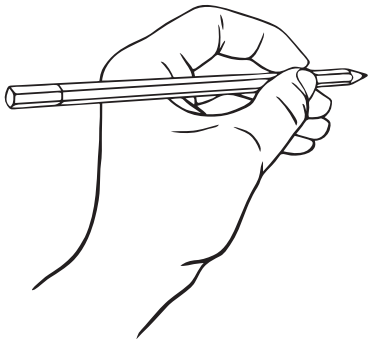

clatter

splat

gulp

clink

screech

Put some of these words in a sentence.