

Personal Pronouns

Name: _____

A personal pronoun is used to replace a noun. They save us from repeating the same words over and over.

Pronouns for yourself: I, me

Pronouns for another person: you, him, her, he, she, them, they

Pronouns for a group: we, us, them, they, our

Write five sentences about you and your friends. Use different personal pronouns in each sentence to make your writing more interesting.

Pronouns for pets

We often say it, or its when we are referring to an animal.

However, for a pet we often use the pronouns he, she, him, her, his.

Write three sentences about Sally.

Change the personal pronouns in each sentence to make your writing more interesting.

Pronouns for objects

We usually say it when we are referring to a single object.

We usually say them or they when we are referring to more than one object.

Would you like some cookies with your coffee? _____ are delicious. I bought _____ from the new shop in town.