

Tourist Brochures

Imagine you are visiting a city for the very first time. You will want to go to the best tourist attractions!

How will you decide what to see and where to go?

Tourist brochures promote places that tourists might like to see. They entice people to visit.

Tourist Brochures

Famous landmarks can include:

- * natural features such as waterfalls
- * buildings and other structures
- * places of cultural importance
- * historic locations
- * museums and art galleries

Tourist Brochures

Choose a city, anywhere in the world.

Write a list of famous places that a tourist might want to see in the city. Choose up to three locations to promote in your brochure.

Tourist Brochures

Write short paragraphs describing these locations. Use language that entices people to visit.

Find pictures to illustrate each landmark in your brochure.

You can use a computer to place the images and text on your page

OR

Create a hand-written brochure that includes your own drawings.
